Sacred Womb Awakening

Become a leader in the new feminine revolution

Dear Sacred Woman,

I am so happy that you are feeling the call to become a leader in the new feminine revolution, Womb Awakening!

My Practitioner Training is designed to help you develop to the highest standards of facilitation, intuitive guidance and personal transformation as you begin, or deepen your professional journey with feminine healing in the Womb.

It is also a personal container for you to undergo a profound spiritual, emotional and personal transformation through Womb work, where you meet the challenges of shadow work and bring your spiritual transformation into the realm of your body, your every day life, and your relationships. Only by doing this can you truly embody Womb work in an authentic way and be the example that others feel inspired by.

I believe that Womb Awakening is a calling that comes from deep within, sometimes through many lifetimes. Each woman who is called to this work holds her own personal library of deep wisdom and knowing in her Womb.

My intention is to work with you as an individual and unique practitioner, and not only to pass on the knowledge that I hold, but help you awaken the keys and codes that you inherently hold within you so that you can share these with the world.

This is a powerful training - and it takes courage and decision to become a Womb Awakening Practitioner. Many of my students comment that they have reached new levels of self knowledge - of both their shadow and their power, through this work - and this has allowed them to offer transformational containers to their clients like no other training before.

I invite you to feel into your truth deeply as you go through this application form. This is not just about applying to work with me, it's also about confirming with yourself that you are ready for this training and ready to share this work, thereby contributing in invaluable ways to the evolution of women, the Earth and humanity.

I look forward to hearing from you when you are truly ready!
